The Lord Mayor of Leeds, Councillor Judith Elliott, was the guest of Honour at the 208 Squadron ATC Summer Fayre on Saturday 11 July. Around 250 guests including MPs, Councillors and other VIPs took advantage of a lovely summer's day and attended the Fayre at the headquarters of 208 Squadron Air Training Corps on Oakwood Lane, Leeds 8.

There was plenty to see and do for all ages, from the young who tried their skill at the popular 'Hook-a-Duck', through to the more adventurous who scaled the magnificent climbing wall. There was even a visit from a previous cadet who had attended the squadron in the late 1940s.

The Fayre was supported by many local craft stall owners and for those needing sustenance, there was a barbecue, strawberries and cream, light refreshments and local strawberries and cream and all in aid of Squadron funds.

208 Squadron Officer Commanding, Chris Sheard commented "The whole day was perfect – from the organization to the fine weather. The Squadron was really on show and everyone who visited was able to see how the Squadron works and supports the cadets. I am really proud of all the cadets who put on a really good demonstration for our guests. All who visited enjoyed themselves and it was a pleasure to meet and greet everyone who made the effort to come along."
